

What Is The Value of City Planning?

City planning is designed for the purpose of promoting a convenient, prosperous and pleasant environment for the present and future inhabitants of your community. It creates a city that protects your property values. It prevents unhealthy growth that destroys the economic, social, and aesthetic values of your community. City planning gives you a town to be proud of, it makes your community a nice place in which to live. It is your way of contributing toward a better tomorrow.

15 June 1967

